TO THE WEST! TO THE WEST!

Before making your arrangements to follow the advice of the "thousands who have already gone," it would be well to consider what has been done to make the journey to your "Homes in the West" as pleasant and free from danger as human skill and foresight can accomplish.

By consolidation and construction, a road has been put into operation on the shortest possible line from Nashville, Tenn., to St. Louis, "the future great City of the world." This line, the has, during the past year, earned an enviable reputation by its smooth track, prompt time, sure connections, and the magnificence of its passenger equipment. Its trains are made up of new and commodious day cars, provided with the celebrated Miller coupler and platform, and the Westinghouse air brake.

It is possitively the only line running Pullman Palace Drawing-Room Sleeping Cars through without change from Nashville to St. Louis. No other line pretends to offer such advantages, either in distance, time, or equipment. Why, then, journey by circuitous routes? Do not be induced to purchase tickets to St. Louis or the West by any other line, remember that

The "St. Louis & Southeastern" is the shortest, cheapest, quickest, best and only line under one management from Nashville to St. Louis, and is from 60 to 200 miles the shortest to St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, California, Texas, and all western points. It is also the "Chicago Shortest Line," via Evansville.

You can secure the cheapest rates for yourselves and your movables on application, in person or by letter, to CHARLES McCABE, Southern Passenger Agent, near College street Depot, Nashville, Tenn., or to the undersigned.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency, the Governor of North Carolina.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Raleigh, October 22d, 1873,

WHEREAS, The people of North Carolina have been abundantly blessed during the past year, and the earth hath yielded bounteously of all the products of its soil so that the garners of the husbandman are filled to overflowing; and the industrious mechanic has realized a rich reward for his labor, and every class of our population prospered in all laudable enterprises; and WHEREAS, above all, fraternal feelings and good will have in a great measure been restored in our midst, and no plague, pestilence or famine, has visited our State: Now, therefore, as it becomes us, a grateful people, to render thanks to Almighty God for these and numberless other blessings showered upon us in His great mercy, I, Tod R. Caldwell, Governor of North Carolina, in obedience to law and in conformity with an honored precedent, do appoint and set apart

Thursday, November 27th, 1873,

as a day of public Thanksgiving throughout the State; and I do earnestly invite the clergy of every denomination to open their respective houses of worship on said day, and to exhort their congregations to humble themselves before the throne of the ever living God, and render unto Him praises which are justly due, invoking for themselves, their State and their whole country, His guidance and protection throughout all time to come.

"O come, let us sing unto the Lord, let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation."

"Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms."

Done at the city of Raleigh, on this the 22d day of October, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, and in the ninety-eighth year of American Independence.

The Evening Post.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Saturday, November 15th, 1873.

A PROCLAMATION,

By the President of the United States of America.

The approaching close of another year brings with it the occasion for renewed thanksgiving and acknowledgment to the Almighty Ruler of the Universe for the unnumbered mercies which He has bestowed upon us.

Abundant harvests have been among the rewards of industry. With local exceptions health has been among the many blessings enjoyed. Tranquility at home and peace with other nations have prevailed. Frugal industry is regaining its merited recognition and its merited rewards.

Gradually, but, under the providence of God, surely, as we trust, the nation is recovering from the lingering results of a dreadful civil strife.

For these and all the other mercies vouchsafed, it becomes us as a people to return heartfelt and grateful acknowledgments, and with our thanksgiving for blessings we may unite prayers for the cessation of local and temporary sufferings.

I, therefore, recommend that on Thursday, the twenty-seventh day of November next, the people meet in their respective places of worship, to make their acknowledgments to Almighty God for His bounties and His protection, and to offer to Him prayers for their continuance.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

[L.S.] Done at the city of Washington this 14th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-seventh.

U. S. GRANT.

By the President:
HAMILTON FISH,
Secretary of State.

The Virginius Horror.

As the ghastly details of the murder of the prisoners of the Virginius come in, the mind is appalled at the enormity of the outrage. We are told that when the members of the expedition came ashore, they were guarded by forces from the Spanish men-of-war lying in the port of St. Jago de Cuba, and volunteers, with their arms tied. Although they had some perception of the horrors which were before them, not a man of these prisoners faltered or blanched. It is believed that the hasty execution was in consequence of fears that the United States might interpose.

These same volunteers deserve a notice. With the most brutal and bloody instincts, they combine all the fantastic admiration of gaudy trappings which is a part of the Spanish character. The latest to be forced upon a field of battle, they are always foremost where a prospect of plunder, unaccompanied with danger, is presented. They are dreadful on a raid upon a sugar plantation, defended only by females, for then their fell passions have the greatest scope.—History will gibbet them in eternal infamy, as among the basest tools which corrupt tyrants ever used.

It is evident that the Madrid government is unable to protect foreigners in Cuba. Indeed, it may be safely said, that in that island, Republicanism exists rather by sufference than by authority. 'The Conservative' or Monarchical press of Havana persists in calling the papers which advocate Republicanism, outlaws and rebels, and invokes the power of the Captain-General of Cuba to put them down. The long line of outrages which have culminated in the recent murderers were not, and it is doubtful if they could have been, prevented by Spain, and it is in vain to look to the Mother country for preventism or redress.

The commander of the Virginius was and American citizen. Although guilty of a violation of the code of nations, yet the time has long since past when offences such as his were punished by death. Yet, in spite of this, notwithstanding he was doing what had been done a thousand times during the late war in this country, his capture is followed by his execution. It is the bravado of barbarians or fools; and retribution to be just, must be speedy.

This capture and these murders will launch ships and arm men, whose mission it will be to exact justice for the massacre. The first impulse, as well as mature reflection, declares that our citizens shall not be the unavenged victims of these incarnate fiends, who are so swift to judge and slay. Already the notes of preparation are sounded from the dock yards and on board our ships of war. But the people of the United States will not be satisfied unless the power to commit such crimes is taken away from the perpetrators. Security, absolute security for the future, must be given and taken; and the surest way to take that security is to take Cuba under our protection.

Southern Inventive Genius.

It is a fact to be regretted that the Southern people, as a people, exhibit but little of that genius for invention which is certainly a characteristic of their Northern brethren. Any man who contrives a machine which will enable one man to do what required two men before, is to that extent a public benefactor. It is the policy of the General Government to protect him, and to encourage and foster in him this spirit of invention through its patent laws. More than nine-tenths of the letters patent issued from the United States Patent Office are to Northern men. Many large fortunes are thus secured, and a world wide reputation established. We are pleased at the success which seems to attend a late invention by a North Carolinian, J. B. Underwood's "cotton chopper." We have seen a number of favorable notices of it in the State press, and we understand that it took the first premiums at the North Carolina State Fair and at the Weldon Fair, and the gold medal at the Georgia State Fair, as the most important invention pertaining to agriculture. Let others make efforts in this direction. A wide field is open, and it is open to all.

We do think the government has been quiet long enough on the Cuba question. We have, as a nation, seen the patriots struggling for liberty for years, and have done nothing. The recent wholesale murder of captured "rebels" including American citizens taken from a vessel flying the United States flag caps the climax of Spanish insolence and disregard of humanity. On this subject we believe all parties are agreed. Let the government interfere and annex the island. We have wanted it long enough. Now let us have it.

EDITORIAL BUDGET.

A private letter says that ex-Comptroller Connolly is living very quietly in a small town in the interior of Ireland, on the interest of a miserable pittance of $3,000,000 obtained in New York in a light industry.

— A man down in Maine, with a wife and to children, having taken a notion to study for the ministry and entered Bates College as a preliminary, commenced beating and abusing his wife because she was "not stylish enough for a minister's wife."

Don Joaquin de Costa, a gentleman of Bogota, New Grenada, is reported to have found on one of his estates a monunmental stone, erected by a small colony of Phœnicians from Sidonia, in the year nine or ten of the reign of Hiram, cotemporary of Solomon, about ten centuries before the Christian era. The block has an inscription of eight lines, written in fine charaters, but without separation of words or punctuation.

— In order to secure nniformity the Commissioner of Customs directs collectors of customs, located where there is no naval officer, in all cases hereafter, to include with the entries of merchandise forwarded with their customs accounts the invoices of the goods imported, together with the returns of the weighers, gaugers, measurers, and appraisers belonging thereto.

— T. T. Brooks, late president of the Merchants' National Bank of Petersburg, was brought to Richmond on the 13th, and arraigned before the United States Commissioner on the charge of embezzling and appropriating to his own use $100,000 of funds of the bank with fraudulent intent. He was bailed in $15,000 to appear for a hearing on the 24th inst.

— A Western paper describes the feat of a noted marksman who, while engaged in a deer hunt, and occupying a stand, the rest of the party being employed in a drive, three fine deer, running abreast, were passing his stand, when he fired, killing two of them and severely wounding a third. It was a fine shot, undoubtedly, and one of which Natty Banks might have been proud.—A better shot, made by a naval officer on the bank of the Perdido river, in Alabama, is recorded. A party of navy men, including four old commodores, all of whom are now dead, went from the yard at Pensacola over to the Perdido on a hunt. A fine pack of hounds was turned loose, and the commodores were placed in the most eligible positions for enjoying the sport, the host, who was remarkable for his skill with a gun, taking a post on one side, prepared to pick off any straggling deer that might come near him. The dogs soon gave tongue, starting several deer, but they ran wild, one of them coming near enough to either of the old sailors for a shot. Presently they saw a fine buck running rapidly in a direction that would bring him within easy range of the solitary gentleman, who was trying to amuse his guests. While they were waiting, full of excitement, expecting to hear him shoot, they saw another deer coming from an opposite direction, and taking a course that must bring them together near his stand. As he met they fired, and with the same rifle ball killed them both, and they fell not much more than a yard apart.

A State Ball in Honolulu.

A German merchant, writing from Honolulu, makes the following remarks concerning his illustrious highness, King Lunalilo; "Two weeks ago we had a ball at the palace of our king, Lumalilo I. He is my friend. When he was still merely crown prince, I loaned him once $2—only for a day as he said. When I met him, a year after, I reminded him of the loan, but he told me to wait until he should have become king of which the prospects were then very slight; but now he is king, and I have slightly made him a present of the $2—cheap friendship, considering he is king.

"It was a fine ball which he gave in honor of the English admirals, and the king was the first who got gloriously drunk. Next came the musicians, then the guests, and finally I myself began to feel a little unsteady. I saw an English naval officer occupy the kingly throne, with a Honolulu girl at his side, while the king and Queen Emma sat at his feet. Then the king took a drum and walked around the floor, beating the tatoo. Finally the musicians began quarreling in regular John Bull style, so that the admiral could not part them, and all this in the midst of the court ball.

"But our king is said to have amused himself exceedingly, particularly as lots of drinkables remained for him to consume himself, though an awful quantity was drunk. Whether he did consume it all I don't konw, but it is said that he was not sober for at least two weeks afterward, though he can stand a vast amount. Otherwise the king is a good fellow, and likes us Germans particularly, probably because we "treated" him so often when he was merely crown prince. He has even learned some German songs, which he sings passably; for instance, "When the Swallows Homeward Fly," and Out of the Tavern I've Just Stepped To-Night."

oct 30 —tf

To the friends of the Cape Fear Agricultural Society:

Your officers have labored dilligently to make the next Fair a success, such as is worthy the great city of Wilmington and the county which sustains it. They have perfected all the arrangements and now alone need the hearty co-operation of those desiring a success. They now appeal to the citizens of the city to come forward and do their duty. We admit that the financial crisis has dampened the ardor of those from whom the Association expected aid. But we ask the question: Has it really injured any? There have been no failures; we are all worse frightened than hurt. Then come forward like men and do your duty. Officers can't do everything without the aid of those really interested. Those men who have the reputation of their city at heart; those men who will really derive pecuniary advantage from the annual collection of a vast concourse of people, each man leaving in the city from $10 to $100. Let those who reap the profit come forward like liberal men and contribute to its success. Deal fairly, and if benefitted do not underrate the advantage of the Fair to the city, in order that you may conceal from the world how much you may really profit by it. Let the croakers and the despondent, the over-ambitious and wilfully obstinate close their mouths for the time. Say a good word, and not be ever ready to complain of the management. Activity in managers is a very good thing, yet it requires a little liberality on the part of the wealthy, influential, the business men—running through all the various departments of city and commercial life. The commission merchant, the wholesale and retail merchant, the railroad man, the hotel and saloon keeper, the butcher, the baker, the artist, the banker, in fact, all and every one interested in the welfare of the city should come forward like men and contribute but a pittance to the support of the enterprise. And especially do we call upon the newspapers of the city and district to lend their aid to the enterprise. They have ever been liberal and public-spirited, and when they know and understand the difficulties of the management they will not be ready to blame. The State Fair was a success, but it was at an expenditure of $40,000.

The management only asks that those most interested shall contribute to make up such purses as may be within their means. It would ask of the Commission merchants to make up one, of the retail merchants one, of the rail road men one, of the turpentine buyers and distillers one, of the mill men and timber buyers one, of the cotton factors one, of the butchers one, of the hotel keepers one, saloon keepers one, and thus encourage the best horses to be brought to the fair. These need not be large in any instance, yet the producer will in a measure judge of the liberality of each by its encouragement of that holiday sport to which the city has invited the country.

Our premium list will be liberally provided for. The country has given evidence that the approaching fair will be the largest and most successful that we have yet held. As Christmas approaches the holiday will be kept in that spirit in which neighbor should meet neighbor on an high and festive occasion. With a spirit of generous rivalry the farmer will meet the farmer and vie with him in exhibiting specimens of those things which go to make up the wealth of the land. Here, too, fair hands will exhibit the work which will refine the rough nature of the beholder, while it will adorn the Floral department of the annual exhibtion. Here will the sturdy farmer exhibit his stock and while it is beheld and admired will his heart glow with pride as enconium after enconium is bestowed upon his care, his thrift and his possession. All will be one grand, one gay, one festive scene, made up from the energy and wealth of the sons of toil and beautified by the hand of art. Fostered and encouraged by the hand of commerce and adorned and made lovely by the bright eyes, smiling faces and fair presence of lovely woman.

Let no croaker endeavor to throw a damper upon the coming Fair. But, as friends, let all come forward and act their parts well and the Fair must be a success,

FAIR.—At a meeting of the Executive Committee and Advisory members of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association, held last night at the Purcell House, a great deal of interest and vim was manifested by the various committees, whose reports are of the most encouraging nature, and who expressed a determination to make the next Annual Fair of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association one of great brilliancy and splendor. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the President and his able coadjutators, who are daily vigorously pushing forward the extensive preparations for the fair next month, and who seems to be determined to make it go far ahead of any held in the State year. A great many useful and ornamental articles have been contributed by our generous public to the Gift Concert, and this innovation will no doubt prove a complete success.

The following gentlemen were appointed members of the Advisory Board: Messrs. J. C. Bailey, Fred. Kidder, J. H. Chadbourn, W. A. French, J. I. Macks, P. Heinsberger, H. C. Brock, J. E. Winants, R. P. Barry, R. R. McIntire, W. H. Bernard, R. S. Radclife, A. Carpenter, J. C. Mann, H. Baillier.

The following committee was appointed to call on the citizens and request that they make exhibitions on the fair grounds: Messrs. S. Bear, D. A. Smith, S. H. Fishblate, J. C. Stevenson, Clayton Giles, G. A. Peck and W. B. Binford.

The special committee appointed will meet at an early date to decide whether the purse which has been donated by our merchants shall be divided into several prizes or remain one grand prize, and also to decide the time for the grand race.

STATE ITEMS.

Snow in Granville on Wednesday.

Cotton 13 cents in Raleigh on Thursday.

Raleigh is all agog over the injunction served on the State Treasurer.

Another probably fatal case of accidental shooting occurred near Raleigh a few days ago.

A man in Henderson county raised tobacco this year as high as his head. The POST don't know whether that man is a dwarf or a giant in stature, but will give his tobacco a first-class puff if he will send us a few pounds of it.

Joseph Corstean, of Shelby county, aged 83 years, was found dead in his house on the 7th inst. He had fallen into the fire and his body was badly burned when discovered.

Mrs. Lucy Wall, living near Raleigh, took a dose of strychnine the other day mistaking it for quinine, and died in an hour afterwards, although every effort was made to save her life.

Dr. S. S. Satchwell, of New Hanover county, is in attendance on the Virginia State Medical Society, now in session at Norfolk, and on being invited to take a part in the proceedings, made one of his usual forcible addresses.

The Tremains had a rousing reception from the young folks of Raleigh. Peace institute was represented by fifty-four young ladies, St. Mary's by about the same number, and the children from the Blind Asylum were also there, and all were happy.

Two young men, sons of a Mr. Emory were scuffling over a loaded shot gun, when it was accidentally discharged, the load taking effect in the side of the elder of the two, producing what it is thought must prove a fatal wound. Another warning, but who will heed it?

The U. S. Marshal has served an injunction on State Treasurer Jenkins, issued by Judge Bond at the instance of some of the holders of the Special tax bonds of the State, commanding him to retain in the Treasury funds sufficient to pay the interest on the said bonds. Judge Bond will hear the case on the 25th instant, when the question of the legality of these bonds will, we suppose, be tested.

In speaking of Mrs. Pinckard's new book, which is just out and offered for sale, called "Bread of Heaven and Husks of Swine: or the Curse of Jealousy—A Life History." The Raleigh Sentinel says that it has been assured by a gentleman who has read it that "it is profane and vulgar, and really unfit to be introduced into our households."—The authoress canvassed Wilmington very thoroughly in the interests of this book, and was looked upon here as a high fraud.

—The Secretary of War having requested the opinion of the Attorney General as to whether or not the Territory of Alaska is embraced within the term "Indian country," and, also, whether or not the War Department has authority to exercise control over the introduction of spirituous liquors into that Territory, the Attorney General decides that Alaska is to be regarded as Indian country, and that no spirituous liquors or wines can be introduced into that Territory without an order by the War Department for that purpose.

"Tommy, my son, what are you doing there with your feet dangling in the water?" "Trying to catch cold, ma, so that I may have some of those cough lozenges you gave me yesterday."

KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, November 15.

Bishop Cummins, of Kentucky, in his letter to Bishop Smith, withdrawing from the Protestant Episcopal Church, gives as reasons, that he has to exercise his office in churches where the services are subversive of truth as it is in Jesus and as it was maintained and defended by the reformers of the sixteenth century. It is hopeless that the error prevailing so extensively in English and American Episcopal Churches can or will be eradicated by the authorities of the church, either legislative or executive. He proposes a return to the Prayer Book sanctioned by Wm. White. He cannot hold his present position after having participated at the Communion Table with certain delegates to the Evangelical Alliance without sadly disturbing the peace and harmony of the church, and without impairing his influence for good over a large portion of the same. He cannot surrender his right thus to meet his fellow christians around the table of the lord. He must take his place where he can do so.

NEW YORK.

POUGHKEEPSIE, November 16.

Charles Howard, bookkeeper of the Sylvian Lake Mining Company has left with $43,000.

NEW YORK, November 15.

The New York Times takes the ground that Spain being unable to control Cuba, the United States must take control there.

Extensive preparations are being made for a Cuban indignation meeting. Wm. Cullen Bryant President. Messrs. Banks, Beecher, Wilson, Sumner, and Allen, (Goveror elect of Ohio) are invited to speak.

The Spaniards are preparing to convert the Virginius into a gunboat.

CUBA.

HAVANA, VIA KEY WEST, Nov. 15.

There is great anxiety to see the comments of the American papers.

The Constancia newspaper says, no matter how much our country may have fallen in the last five years, the Spanish people have not become degraded to such an extent as to be frightened by those who might have to pay dear for their temerity and insolence in event of an intervention.

The mails by the Schooner Frankfort have been seized.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PITTSBURG, November 15.

Ira McVey & Co., bankers, have two years extension and resume business.

MIDDLETON, November 15.

Two negros murdered a farmer in his barn and then approached the house. The inmates, an old lady and gentleman, drove them off.

MISSOURI.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 15.

A meeting has been called, which will probably recommend the President to suspend for 60 or 90 days the neutrality laws, so that the indignation against volunteers can have vent.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 15.

The latest pools stand: Stevens 410, True Blue 250, Daniels 210, Field 42. The track is splendid, and the weather fine.

Which is the best Sewing Machine, is a point on which different Companies differ, each, of course, thinks its own the best, but if the point were to be decided by popularity the Howe Machine would surpass all others. It is a noticeable fact that the Howe Company has

SIX HUNDRED THOUSAND

of their Machines in use although having existed but six years, while the Company which claims to have most in use, has only about twice that number, though having existed for twenty years. Until the year 1866, ELIAS HOWE, JR., the

did not manufacture, but was content with receiving the royalty which all Sewing Machine Manufacturers had to pay him for the use of his Patents. A sample of each Machine was sent to Mr. Howe before a license could be obtained. Constant study upon them enabled him to avoid the defects of each and improve upon the excellences of all. This fact explains the

to which Mr. Howe brought his latest pattern of Machine, without which advantages such a result could not have been achieved. These facts should be borne in mind by all who intend to purchase a Sewing Machine. As the purchase of a Machine may be the act of a lifetime with some, care should be taken to
